

Transnational History Series

Events in 2010

Monday, 29 March 2010 at 5:30 pm

Michael Goebel (European University Institute, Florence)
Italian Immigration in North and South America: Commonalities and Divergences, 1880-1930

Room 121 (Gallery Suite), Lipman Building

Wednesday, 26 May 2010 at 5:30 pm

Angéline Escafré-Dublet (INED, Paris) and Sarah Hackett (Sunderland)
Transnationalism in Post-War Europe: Policies towards Migrants in France and West Germany

Room 121 (Gallery Suite), Lipman Building

Thursday, 9 September 2010

Workshop on 'The Sites of Internationalism: Existing Metropolises, Imagined Cosmopolises at the Fin de Siècle'

This event contributes to a series of meetings organised as part of the network 'Internationalism and Cultural Exchange at the Fin de Siècle', led by Grace Brockington (Bristol) and Sarah Victoria Turner (York). For further information on this workshop, please get in touch with Daniel Laqua (daniel.laqua@northumbria.ac.uk).

Friday, 12 November 2010 at 4:30 pm

Bernhard Rieger (UCL): The Volkswagen Beetle as a Transnational Icon

Room 121 (Gallery Suite), Lipman Building

Launched in 2010, Northumbria University's seminar series in transnational history explores phenomena that transcended national boundaries in the 19th and 20th centuries. Topics for discussion include the movement of individuals, groups and commodities as well as the transmission of cultural, political or social practices.

Contact: Daniel Laqua, Department of Humanities (daniel.laqua@northumbria.ac.uk).