Important Notice about Visas

If you require a visa for travel, it is important for you to apply for a visa with the British embassy or consulate with ample time for processing.

Prospective conference attendees, requiring a visa to travel to the UK, should first contact the 17th ISEC Technical Secretariat to request an official letter of invitation. This letter and a copy of the conference call for papers will be posted to present along with the other required documentation to the UK consular officials as part of the formal application process.
